

CAE-228: PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT (005Q)

This page has been made public for vendors

Abstract

The VA application is being developed and maintained by Product Development (005Q).

Explanation

Product Development (PD) serves as a trusted advisor to the CIO for all enterprise application development and sustainment activities throughout the project life cycle. The life cycle consists of planning, developing (or acquiring), testing, and sustaining applications that meet stakeholder and Veteran needs. PD provides day-to-day direction and overall solutions developed by OI&T for VA's business administrations.
